

Florabama – JJ Grey & Mofro

Music & Lyrics by JJ Grey

Intro/Opening: B E B to E for start of verse

E

There's a place down on the coast

B

Between Florida and Alabama

B

Ah the women down there get a little, little too hot to handle

E

The air so sweaty so sticky so tricky

B

Trick or treat baby trick it on me

B

Love on the beach sweet as peaches and cream

A

B

I can feel the breeze from the Gulf of Mexico

B

Something in that salty air feels just right

B

I can feel the breeze from the Gulf of Mexico

B

Gonna be a party in Florabama tonight

E

Ah this blankets to small

B

Going to get a little sandy

E

B

Candied-lipped sweet tip, sweeter than cotton candy

B

Ah a little sweat never hurt nobody, nobody, nobody at all

B

Least of all me - baby can't you feel it now

A E B
I can feel the breeze from the Gulf of Mexico

A E B
Something in that salty air feels just right

A E B
I can feel the breeze from the Gulf of Mexico

A E B
Gonna be a party in Florabama tonight

A E B
I can feel the breeze from the Gulf of Mexico

A E B
Something in that salty air feels just right

A E B
I can feel the breeze from the Gulf of Mexico

A E B
Gonna be a party in Florabama tonight

(repeat to fade out)

This is an essential jam track in that there is a lot going on with the horns, guitar, solos, and just playing within the chords/scales in general.

To play along, us the B Pentatonic Minor Scale. Notes used: B D E F# A

The horns do a lot of A B A B shuffles with the single notes in between verses and the chorus. Everything else can be played impromptu in a sense by just using the scale and playing those notes.
